

24th Annual IISPSL Competition
October 27 to 30, 2005

October 26, 2005

Dear Competitors and Colleagues, Judges, and Faculty,

We are delighted and honoured to act as hosts of the 2005 International Independent Schools' Public Speaking League Competition. We look forward to welcoming you to our school, to the cosmopolitan city of Montreal, and to the unique province of Québec and hope to show them all to you in the best possible light.

All competing schools have proud traditions of excellence in both debating and public speaking, and today we live in a world where communication skills are paramount among the many we all teach. Consequently, Selwyn House is especially enthusiastic about supporting a competition among the most talented of students from seven countries who endeavor to communicate compellingly a broad spectrum of ideas. In such communication, perhaps, lies the way to peaceful resolution of long-standing conflicts that continue to trouble the world. As the competition unfolds, we look forward to experiencing the spirit of comradeship that can be engendered through the thoughtful exchange of ideas. As a result, we expect many of you will leave Montreal having made lifelong friendships.

Our Selwyn House Community, parents, students, faculty, and staff, has done its utmost to ensure that your stay here will be stimulating and enjoyable. Whatever thanks we may offer them, your success at the Competition, whether in high accomplishment or new friendships formed, will be the best kind of appreciation they can have.

So bonne chance a tous; good luck to all!

Sincerely,

Dear Competitors and Colleagues, Judges and Faculty,

I cannot believe it's finally here. Plans to host this Competition at Selwyn House School have been in the works, at least in my head, for three years! So many people have helped to make this event happen that it is impossible to name or thank them all. Without the support of Headmaster William Mitchell, faculty and staff, and especially the tireless steering committee, plus volunteer parents, students and alumni, there would be no tournament at all.

For almost 30 years, I have run various public speaking programmes. Some students have excelled at competitions, and we have travelled around the world to fascinating places together. More important for me, however, were those students who may not have excelled at competitions, but whose confidence I saw soar when they realized they were able to express themselves clearly and that people were paying attention. In very real contexts, from eulogies to political speeches to wedding toasts, I have heard my former students bring people to laughter and to tears. It is in support of this ongoing pride in self-expression that Selwyn House School is infused with excitement in welcoming you to our school and to Montreal, the "Paris of North America".

Enjoy every second of the experience, and when you leave us, take with you wonderful memories of the Selwyn House IISPSL Competition of 2005.

Sincerely,
